Complete installation and after-sales services to help you protect your investment.

- Evoqua experienced field service technicians – the largest group in the industry – can handle a complete upgrade, or do portions of it assisted by your personnel.
- Evoqua can handle the installation of new collectors, as well, working with your contractors or others. Technicians can perform annual inspections, advise on inventory requirements and, of course, be on-site for emergencies.
- Evoqua can upgrade or retrofit any manufacturer's sludge collector with new, non-metallic components. The renovated collector will run more smoothly and require far less maintenance than the original.
- For replacement parts, Evoqua has the most extensive inventory in the business, and can ship from stock immediately when required.
